

Matthew Faluotico

When you mix software with great people you can make amazing things.
I want to make
amazing things.

(330) 807- 3106
faluotico.1@osu.edu
matt.faluotico@gmail.com
github.com/MattFaluotico

Experience

JP Morgan Chase — Technology Analyst Intern

Summer 2014

- Added support for multiple browsers and foreign languages to internal application
- Help migrate desktop program to web application using Google Web Toolkit and Java

Spotify — Campus Influencer

Spring 2014

- Represent Spotify by sponsoring campus events and promoting the service word of mouth
- Reporting students feedback to influencer directors

Etactics Inc — Software Developer

May 2013 – May 2014

- Build a system to alert management when customers show reduced system activity
- Turn data tables into user friendly charts and forms in a web UI with Java backend

Projects

Count My Steps — iOS

- Turn step counting data into miles walked and calories burned
- Background updates so a step is never missed

Pillar — iOS, Web

- Initial team member of a startup connecting Muslim students to congregate for prayer on their campuses

vTxt — Web

- Hackathon project that gives a crowd the power to vote for the next song in a play queue via SMS or mobile app

Education

The Ohio State University

Expected Graduation December 2015

- B.S., Computer Science & Engineering (GPA: 3.2)

Involvement & Leadership

Assistant Head of iOS — OSU Mobile App Club

Spring 2013 - Present

- Help students ship mobile applications using the agile methodology
- Covers iOS, Android, and Git

Ohio State Hackathon Organizer

Autumn 2014

- Organize, direct, and raise funding for OSU's Hackathon, "OHI/O"

Student Instructional Assistant - CSE 3901 (Web Applications)

Autumn 2014

- Host office hours to answer student questions and grade web projects

Skills

- Proficient: Java, Objective-C, HTML, CSS
- Familiar: Javascript, Ruby, Swift, SQL, C
- Platforms: OS X, Windows, *nix, Git/GitHub, Xcode, Eclipse
- Concepts: OOP, UX, agile, version control